

Old Dominion University
College of Arts & Letters
Colloquium Series

Presented by Humanities Institute:

The Public's Role in Public Art
Friday, November 1, 2013
3:00 - 5:00 PM

Baron & Ellin Gordon Art Galleries

4509 Monarch Way Norfolk, VA 23508

The colloquium is focused on addressing what constitutes public art in Hampton Roads and who gets to make such decisions. It will explore the cultural, economic, legal, social and spatial dimensions of public art. The colloquium features the perspectives of both scholars and practitioners.

Presenters are:

Tim Bearse, Art Department, ODU

Tom Chapman, Political Science &
Geography Department, ODU

Elizabeth Cooke, Public Artist and ODU Alumni

Robert Wojtowicz, Associate Dean of College of Arts & Letters, Art
Department, ODU

Left: Metal Matisse by Electroland

Right: The Flame of Liberty by Bill Wagner

OLD DOMINION
UNIVERSITY

Contact Stacey Parks (sparks@odu.edu) in BAL 3041 for more details.