Television News Production Workshop

A Special Topics course offering for Fall 2013

ENGL 495/COMM 495 Dr. Joyce Hoffmann & Prof. Barbara Hamm Lee Monday 7:10-9:50 p.m.

Students in this Special Topics Course will develop Old Dominion University's first 30-minute, weekly campus news broadcast. Designed to equip students for jobs in broadcast news, this course will teach every aspect of news programming -- both in front of and behind the camera. Sit in the anchor chair, do on-camera interviews with campus newsmakers, grab a video camera and film breaking news events, and learn the technical aspects of program production. Be a pioneer. Be among the first to deliver news on WODU-TV.
