

January 30, 1953

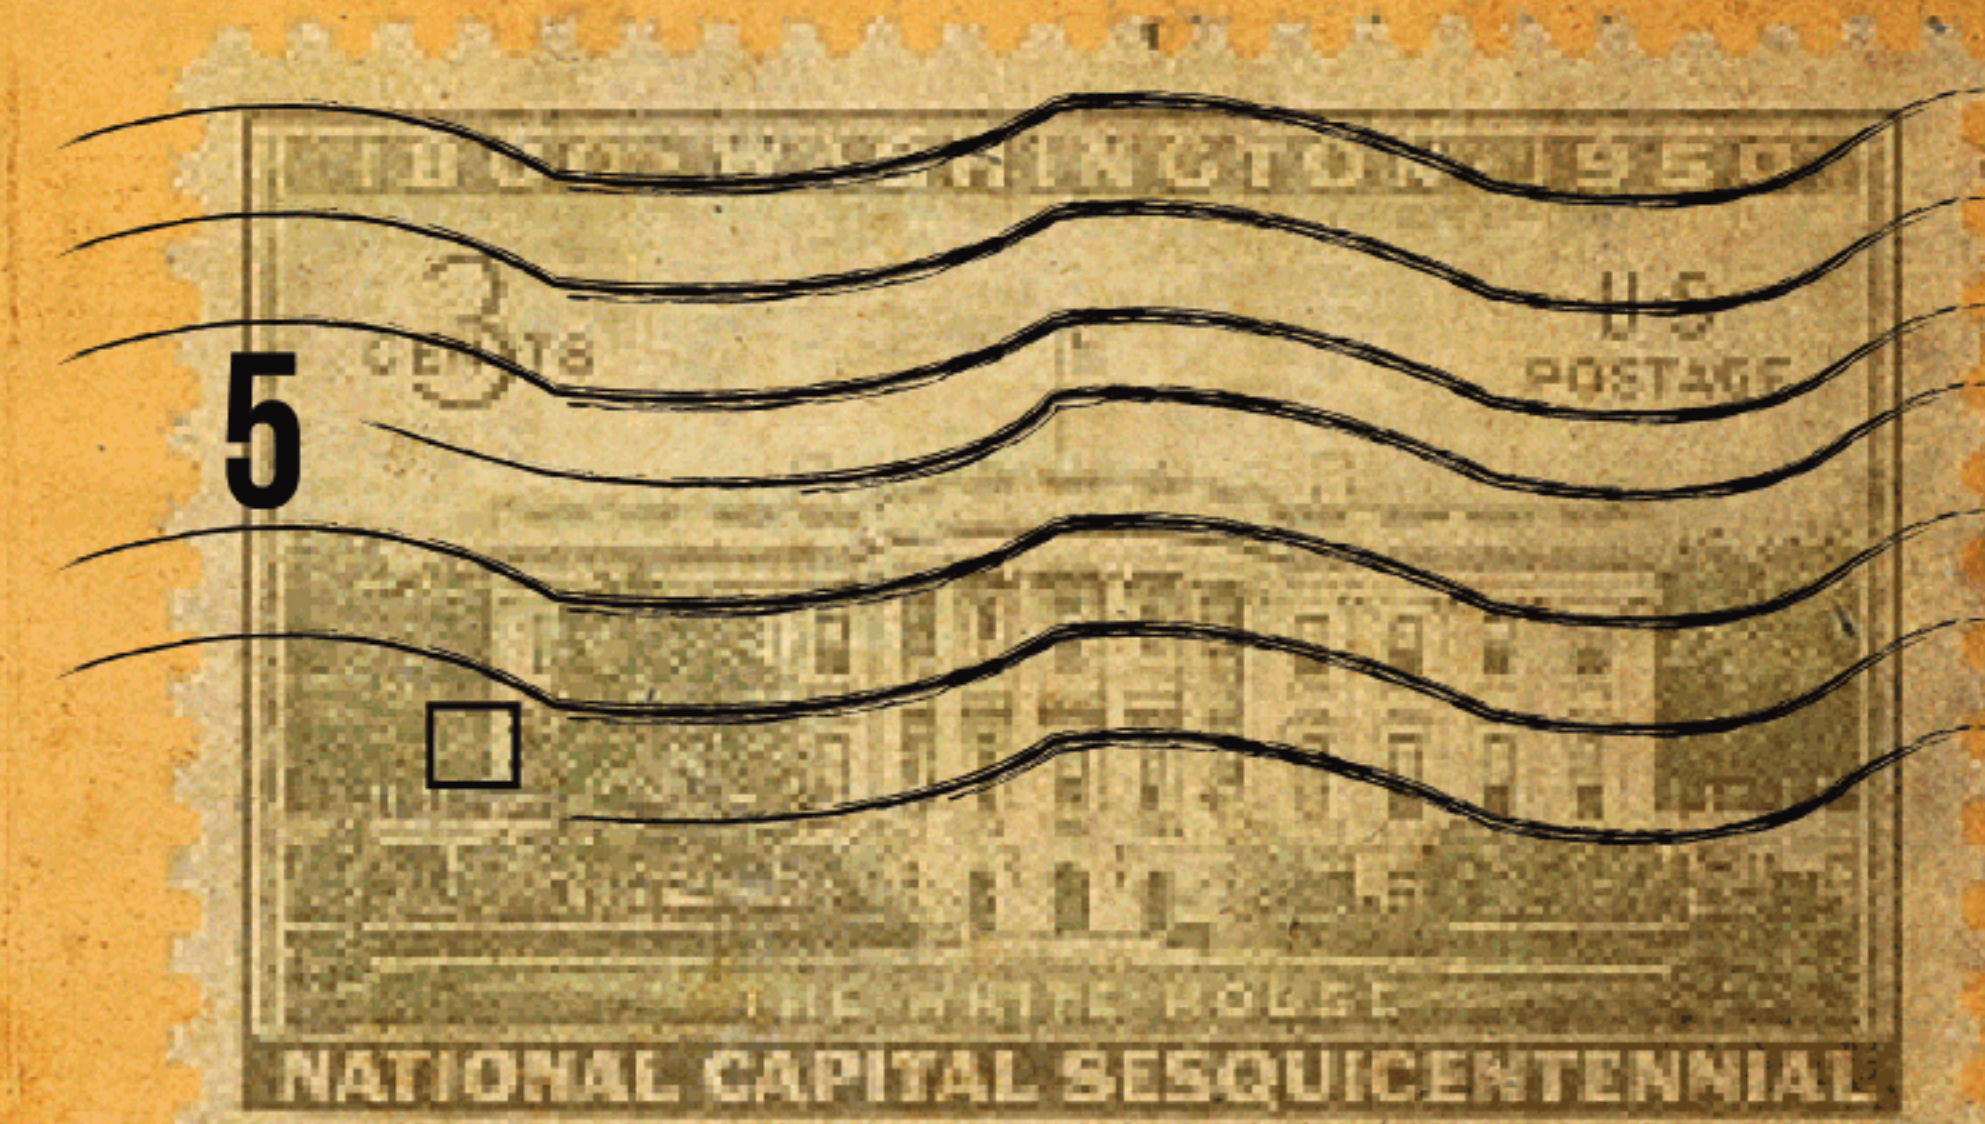

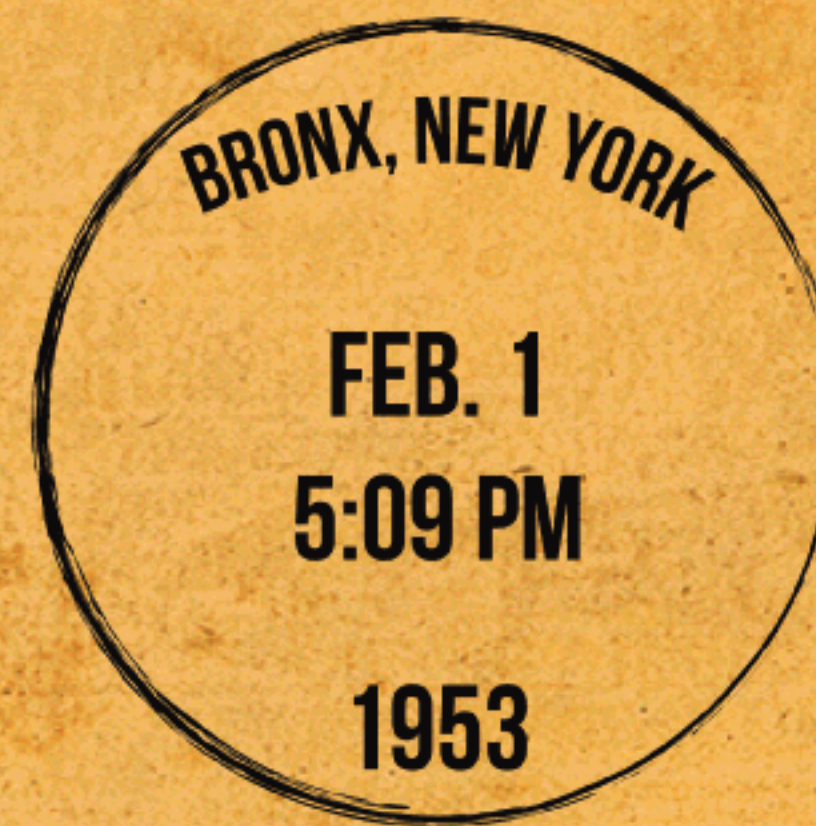

Gentlemen:

This is to tell you that I am now busy preparing my personal story. It will first be published in the American West form by Random House.

I deeply appreciate the opportunity that thousands who have written to me. If I can, by a frank and honest account of my life and the others then I feel that my duty is done.

I deeply appreciate the opportunity that thousands who have written to me. If I can, by a frank and honest account of my life and the others then I feel that my duty is done.

I deeply appreciate the opportunity that thousands who have written to me. If I can, by a frank and honest account of my life and the others then I feel that my duty is done.

Loving George

A Story of America's First Famous Transsexual

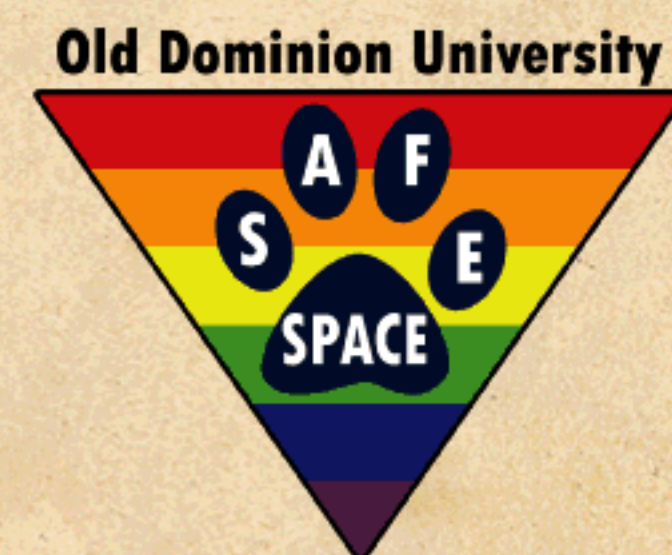

Written & Performed by Andrew Fortman

Free Show!
January 28, 7:30 p.m.
University Theatre

Co-sponsored by:

Women's Center

The Starving Artists

Theatre Department

