

WE CAN REBUILD YOU:

Disabled Bodies
and Technological Imagination

IEPA
THE INSTITUTE FOR ETHICS AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Disabled people are often the first testing grounds for new tech, with many of the results becoming widely used. However, disability communities challenge and disrupt common narratives about how to treat disability. This talk contrasts popular discourse about technologies for disabilities against lived experience and the tensions between authenticity and enhancement, disability and superability, being fixed and being okay with oneself.

DR. ASHLEY SHEW

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR, SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY STUDIES (STS), VIRGINIA TECH

FEBRUARY 4, 2016

7:00-8:30 p.m.

LEARNING COMMONS AT
PERRY LIBRARY: L1310/11