

Now accepting CSA @ ODU Fall Season Subscriptions!

What is a CSA? CSA stands for Community Supported Agriculture. It is a program that is designed to support small farmers and bring seasonal fresh produce to the community's table. A group of individuals pledge their support by purchasing a CSA subscription that provides them with seasonal local produce.

How does CSA @ ODU Work? CSA @ ODU allows ODU and its local community to connect with the CSA program at 5pts Farm Market ON CAMPUS. Every Friday, 5Pts will deliver ODU subscriptions to the Webb Center and from 4pm to 6pm subscribers can pick up their produce. Additionally, one pick up a season serves as an open house where participants can enjoy beverages and appetizers prepared with CSA ingredients by one of Aramark's chefs, get recipe suggestions, and mingle with others who are interested in sustainable food.

Now Accepting Applications for the Fall Season!

Subscribe today! The subscription form is attached! All subscriptions must be received by September 23rd!

Remember CSA @ ODU is open to anyone interested! This includes community members, students, faculty, staff, and alumni. So please share this announcement with a friend today!

Pick up days will be every Friday in the Webb Center. Reminder and special notice emails will be sent to all participants weekly. If you are unable to pick up your subscription share at the designated time and location, you can designate a family member or friend to pick it up on your behalf. In order to take advantage of this, please contact us ASAP and provide us with the name of the person. Or, you may pick up at the 5Pts Farm Market through Sunday. Produce that is leftover on Sunday will be donated to those in need. You may also donate your weekly share to help a local family in need. If you are choosing the two-payment option, you understand that you have still obligated yourself to the entire season and you may not cancel your subscription halfway through. You understand that your post-dated check will be cashed on November 11, 2016.
