

SPRING 2021

CRN:32603
SYNCHRONOUS
TUESDAYS
4:20-7:00 PM

WCS 495/595: ENVIRONMENTAL HUMANITIES IN LATIN AMERICA

Students will examine

Environmental topics through the lens of philosophy and ethics, literary traditions, history, media, landscape studies and the arts

Course covers research areas

Environmental history and anthropology; climate and environmental ethics; literature & media studies; religion & ideology; studies of landscape and identity

Will engage and reflect on

Models of environmental activism; develop sustainable approach to the environment; how politics affects decisions about the environment

PROFESSOR ANGELICA HUIZAR

ahuizar@odu.edu