

Seminar Talk

Mr. Randy Rose
Deputy Intelligence Officer
Navy Cyber Defense Operations Command
Director of Cybersecurity for the Tasman Group

Tuesday, November 14, 2017

3:00 p.m. KH 224

Title: Analysis Paralysis: Thinking Beyond Technology

Bio:

Randy Rose is the Deputy Intelligence Officer for the Navy Cyber Defense Operations Command (NCDOC) in Suffolk, VA and the Director of Cybersecurity for the Tasman Group. He has been a public servant in varying capacities since 2003 when he enlisted in the United States Air Force. He has previously supported the Defense Intelligence Agency, the NY State Comptroller's Office, the NY Air National Guard, and the Naval Nuclear Propulsion Program at Knoll's Atomic Power Laboratory. He holds a Master of Science degree in Cybersecurity, a Bachelor of Arts degree in Anthropology, and is currently pursuing a Master's of Science and Technology in Intelligence from National Intelligence University. His independent research focuses on physical security, social engineering, cyber threat intelligence analysis and modeling, and future technologies. Randy is the father of 3 incredible children with Kim, his wife and partner of 13 years. He volunteers with Hope House, AFCEA, and the American Red Cross. He moonlights as a writer, musician, and improvisational comedian.