APPROVAL OF MINUTES OF DECEMBER 1, 2023, BOARD OF VISITORS MEETING

Upon a motion made by Mr. Mugler and duly seconded, the minutes of the Board of Visitors meeting held on December 1, 2023, were approved by roll-call vote (Bradley, Corn, Dickseski, Ellmer, Hodge, Holland, Kemper, Middleton, Mitchum, Montero, Mugler, Pitts).

PROPOSED 2024-2025 TUITION AND FEES

Mr. Chad Reed, Vice President for Administration & Finance and Chief Financial Officer, presented the administration’s 2024-2025 Tuition and Fee proposal. During the Administration and Finance Committee meeting yesterday, he discussed the financial structure of the University, a comprehensive look at how ODU compares with its peers, and how resources have changed over the last several years.

In its tuition and fee planning, the administration considered the economic outlook for Virginia and the region, including the uncertainty regarding the state budget and general fund resources; legislative actions, including the state-mandated compensation increases; enrollment projections, with the potential for a slight decrease in undergraduate enrollment; mandatory cost increases in contracts, utilities, and other nonpersonal services; and programmatic priorities in support of the 2023-2028 Strategic Plan and the EVMS integration and establishment of the Eastern Virginia Health Sciences Center.

Vice President Reed reviewed the 2024-2025 State budget proposed new operating funds and the current differences between the General Assembly’s enrolled budget and the Governor’s amendments, noting that the only differences for ODU were the amounts the Governor proposed for affordable access funding and undergraduate financial assistance. The $21M slated for the EVMS merger and the $2M for the Digital Patient Model have remained consistent. A special session will be held May 13-15, during which the General Assembly and Governor will try to finalize a budget deal.

The General Assembly amendments make several changes to the VMSDEP waiver program that would benefit the University. The amendments would restrict eligibility to in-state undergraduates and require satisfactory academic progress; require completion of FAFSA and application of a portion of need-based aid sources and Expected Family Contribution (EFC) before the waiver is applied; provide $40 million in state funding to be distributed among institutions to cover a portion of waiving costs; and maintain existing rules for current recipients until July 1, 2025. ODU’s share of the funding and the effects of the policy changes will be uncertain going into 2024-2025. Vice President Reed shared the VMSDEP waiver history, noting that it has grown from $2.05 million in 2018-2019 to $12.55 million in 2023-2024.

Vice President Reed reviewed the fiscal impact of the proposed compensation and benefits increases, noting that the University’s share of the cost will be $4.9M. He also reviewed projected headcount enrollment and credit hour consumption, noting a projected 0.9% decline in headcount enrollment and 1% decline in billable credit hours. Mandatory cost increases include contractual operating commitments, operation and maintenance of new and existed facilities, contractual escalators for technology and maintenance contracts, escalating utilities, committed cost for previously approved projects, and teaching and research faculty promotion and tenure.

Vice President Reed shared preliminary scenario estimates of 2024-25 E&G resource and expenditure changes and the differences between the General Assembly enrolled budget and the Governor’s amendments. He reviewed the proposed tuition and mandatory fee rates for in-state undergraduate students (2.77%), out-of-state undergraduate students (3.06%), in-state graduate students (2.83%), and out-of-state graduate students (3.04%). A 3.5% increase in room and board is also proposed. He explained that language has been added to the resolution that allows the administration to come back and request a revision to the tuition rates based on the outcome of the special session of the General Assembly in May.

Following a brief discussion and upon a motion made by Mr. Mugler and duly seconded, by the following resolution was approved by roll-call vote (Bradley, Corn, Dickseski, Ellmer, Hodge, Holland, Kemper, Middleton, Mitchum, Montero, Mugler, Pitts).

RESOLUTION APPROVING 2024-25 TUITION AND FEES

WHEREAS, §4-2.01.b (Higher Education Tuition and Fees) of the 2022 Acts of Assembly, Chapter 2 states:

2. a) The Boards of Visitors or other governing bodies of institutions of higher education may set tuition and fee charges at levels they deem to be appropriate for all resident student groups based on, but not limited to, competitive market rates, provided that the total revenue generated by the collection of tuition and fees from all students is within the nongeneral fund appropriation for educational and general programs provided in this act.

b) The Boards of Visitors or other governing bodies of institutions of higher education may set tuition and fee charges at levels they deem to be appropriate for all nonresident student groups based on, but not limited to, competitive market rates, provided that: i) the tuition and mandatory educational and general fee rates for nonresident undergraduate and graduate students cover at least 100 percent of the average cost of their education, as calculated through base adequacy guidelines adopted, and periodically amended, by the Joint Subcommittee Studying Higher Education Funding Policies, and ii) the total revenue generated by the collection of tuition and fees from all students is within the nongeneral fund appropriation for educational and general programs provided in this act.

8. a) 1) Except as provided in Chapters 933 and 943 of the 2006 Acts of Assembly, Chapters 594 and 616 of the 2008 Acts of Assembly, Chapters 675 and 685 of the 2009 Acts of Assembly, and Chapters 124 and 125 of the 2019 Acts of Assembly, mandatory fees for purposes other than educational and general programs shall not be increased for Virginia undergraduates beyond three percent annually, excluding requirements for wage, salary, and fringe benefit increases, authorized by the General Assembly. Fee increases required to carry out actions that respond to mandates of federal agencies are also exempt from this provision, provided that a report on the purposes of the amount of the fee increase is submitted to the Chairmen of the House Appropriations and Senate Finance and Appropriations Committees by the institution of higher education at least 30 days prior to the effective date of the fee increase.

b) This restriction shall not apply in the following instances: fee increases directly related to capital projects authorized by the General Assembly; fee increases to support student health services; and other fee increases specifically authorized by the General Assembly.

WHEREAS, Old Dominion University developed the 2024-25 Tuition and Fees recommendation with consideration of the economic outlook for Virginia and the Region, the labor market, potential legislative actions, conservative enrollment planning, and balancing student affordability with the need to address mandatory cost increases and core operating infrastructure needs, and investments in strategic initiatives.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the Board of Visitors of Old Dominion University approves the 2023-2024 Tuition, Fees, Room and Board Rates as outlined below.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, the 2025-25 tuition and fee rates are subject to change pending the enactment of Commonwealth 2024-26 Biennial Budget. As such, the rates may be revisited at an Old Dominion University Board of Visitors meeting following the approval of the Commonwealth Budget.

Justin A. Haegele
Professor of Health and Physical Education
Department of Human Movement Studies and Special Education

I am writing this letter in enthusiastic support of the nomination of Dr. Justin Haegele for the Colgate Darden Endowed Professorship within the Darden College of Education and Professional Studies. Dr. Haegele is a Professor of Health and Physical Education in the Department of Human Movement Studies and Special Education. His exceptional contributions to the fields of adapted physical education and health have firmly established him as an internationally renowned scholar, making him an exemplary candidate for this distinguished professorship.

The criteria for the Colgate Darden Endowed Professorship explicitly specify that the endowment funds are to be awarded solely to faculty members holding the rank of full professor. Dr. Haegele was awarded the rank of full professor in Spring 2023.

In the realm of research, Dr. Haegele's work is nothing short of remarkable. He is internationally recognized for his groundbreaking contributions to the field of adapted physical education, with a specific focus on understanding how individuals with disabilities experience physical activity participation. His leadership and vision have led to the establishment of the Center for Movement, Health, and Disability, of which he is founding Director.

Since joining Old Dominion University, Dr. Haegele has published an impressive 227 national and international peer-reviewed journal articles, authored four books, and contributed 17 book chapters. His work has garnered substantial attention, as evidenced by his 5320 citations, an h-index of 36, and an i10-index of 123 according to Google Scholar. Dr. Haegele's prolific publication record stands as a testament to his dedication to scholarly inquiry and intellectual rigor, and it is worth noting that he has published more than any other scholar at our institution.

Furthermore, Dr. Haegele has had outstanding success in securing over $10 million in externally funded grants for training doctoral scholars in adapted physical education. This is substantial funding for a faculty member in a college of education.

Dr. Haegele's exceptional contributions have been recognized on a global scale. In addition to receiving numerous awards, for three consecutive years, he has been ranked in the top 2% of researchers by Stanford University.

Dr. Haegele's influence extends beyond academia, as his concept of inclusion as a subjective experience for individuals with disabilities was adopted by the Virginia Department of Education

She received her Ph.D. in Ecological Genetics from Florida State University and her M.S. in Conservation Biology from the University of Maryland, College Park. She has received over 40 scientific grants, written multiple book chapters, and 30 publications including those for the federal, state, and private sector. Dr. Horth has taught many different courses during her tenure at ODU, most recently Conservation Biology & Sustainable Development, a lecture-lab course, and Modern Plant-Animal Interactions, a university-level writing intensive course. She has mentored both graduate and undergraduate research.

Lisa Horth’s research focus of late has included conservation biology, or more specifically, investigating ecological factors associated with the stability of populations of plants that are endangered and whose global distribution includes only near small ponds in the mountains of Virginia. Her research group has discovered a new method of seed germination that may prove beneficial to stabilizing these populations and demonstrated that this plant’s basic breeding system is very different than what was previously though. Dr. Horth’s most recent research involved applied ecology where she worked to improve methods of strawberry production on farms using supplemental native bees and indoors using the methods of hydroponic farming, which she has received research and outreach funding for. With that funding Lisa Horth has shared her knowledge with Teens with a Purpose, a local group receiving national attention working to improve the lives of teens from low income, high crime areas. Dr. Horth’s expertise is ecological genetics and conservation.

Mary Barclay Porter-Troupe

Mary B. Porter-Troupe received a B.A. in English from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1976 and a Masters in English from Old Dominion University in 1999. She joined Old Dominion as a Teaching Assistant, Adjunct, and then served as an instructor, and later achieved Lecturer and Senior Lecturer status in 2012. Mary taught both Literature (112, 114) and Composition courses (110, 211, 123) as well as 300 level courses (Shakespeare 303 and 304) and Introduction to British Literature (301 and 302). Recognition of her accomplishments in teaching include two Shining Star Awards for promotion of student learning and success, appreciation for student support in a Student Success Luncheon and Ceremony, and acknowledgement of contributing to student success (Freshman Awards Ceremony). In addition, she has maintained consistently high ratings in Student Opinion Surveys over the years. She has also provided one-on-one tutoring for local high school students and provided community service by offering volunteer tutoring for underserved students.

Mary has served and still serves on the General Education Committee and Gen. Ed. Subcommittee and has participated in the design of SLOs, assessment of student writing, and proposal and implementation of department goals and objectives for Literature and Composition courses. She participated over the years in other committees including Student Recruitment, Alumnae Public Relations, and Textbook Selection (English 114). For the last ten years she has served in an advising capacity (first as regular faculty responsibilities and second as a member of the Advising Committee) to assure that assigned undergraduates understand, navigate, and meet the requirements for graduation. In 2016, she served on the committee to plan and launch the Shakespeare 400 Years Later Conference which took place at Old Dominion University. She chaired the committee on Promotions and acted as liaison to local media to secure TV (public service announcements), radio (interviews, public service announcements), and print coverage (feature articles in the Virginian Pilot, press releases in local magazines) for the various events that were a part of the conference.

In addition, Mary designed, at the request of a senior faculty member, a Topics course, Introduction to the Renaissance, the purpose of which was to allow students to make connections between assigned texts and the surrounding cultural texts that so powerfully informed their creation. Attention was placed on such pivotal thinkers as Machiavelli (The Prince), Castiglione (The Book of the Courtier), and Montaigne (selected essays). The course creates a framework that would enable students to actively engage with how specific texts (by Shakespeare, Marlowe, Jonson, Kyd, etc.) both reflect and respond to the larger cultural, social, and ideological issues of the day.
Reciprocity between text and context was the emphasis. Mary strives to impart her love for language, narrative and art in a way that hopefully assures its relevance and power in our ever-changing lives and world.

P. Thomas Vernier

Research Professor P. Thomas Vernier came to Old Dominion University (ODU) in 2013 from the University of Southern California (USC), where he worked for 25 years as an electrical engineer. During his time at USC, he drew on his experience in semiconductor and microelectronics engineering and his previous training in microbiology and chemistry to earn an electrical engineering Ph.D. in what we could now call bioelectrical engineering. He accepted a research faculty position at USC and continued to shape and sharpen his signature research focus: to understand better, through hypothesis-driven, mechanism-based inquiry, the effects of membrane-permeabilizing pulsed electric fields on biological systems, by identifying and characterizing the initial cellular, subcellular, and molecular events after exposure to an intense electric field.

With a team of USC graduate students, Prof. Vernier developed a methodology that is an interwoven combination of molecular simulations and imaging of living cells before, during, and after application of an external electric field. With these tools he demonstrated that cell membranes are permeabilized even by the very short (nanosecond) electric pulses studied by bioelectronics researchers, and he identified a molecular mechanism for the externalization of normally cytoplasm-facing membrane lipids that is observed immediately after pulsed electric field exposure. He also published the first systematic description of the time course of lipid electropore creation and annihilation, processes which take place within a few nanoseconds, and he showed that, even on this time scale, increasing the magnitude of the external field is equivalent to increasing the transmembrane voltage, and that this increases the probability of pore formation without significantly changing the pore formation time, once initiated. This last point represents a convergence of newer molecular models based on interatomic interactions with the older continuum models based on fields and bulk material properties. Dr. Vernier was also involved, with his colleague and mentor at USC, Martin Gundersen, oncologists at USC and UCLA, and biomedical engineers associated with the Alfred Mann Foundation, in early efforts to utilize the unique characteristics of intense submicrosecond electric pulses in cancer therapy.

After many productive years at USC, and now a leading researcher in the new field of nanosecond bioelectronics, in the U.S. and internationally, Vernier moved to Norfolk to join the Frank Reidy Research Center for Bioelectrics at ODU. He brought with him not only his own experience and expertise, but also an international network of collaborators (Argentina, Croatia, Denmark, France, Germany, Poland, Romania, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden) who have contributed to the wide-ranging, interdisciplinary research environment at the Center. Vernier’s Nanoscale Bioelectrical Physics laboratory has added to our understanding of the role of charge in the transport of ionized species.
into electropermeabilized cells and the importance of accurate ion models for molecular simulations of lipid electropore formation. Vernier also helped to lead recent studies showing inflammasome activation after nanosecond pulsed electric field exposures, which may lead to better control of the immune response after this treatment.

A member of the faculty of the annual International Scientific Course and Workshop on Electroporation-Based Technologies and Treatments in Ljubljana, Vernier is also a lecturer in the sister Workshop on Fundamental and Applied Bioelectric in Norfolk. Vernier’s scientific and other contributions were recognized recently when he received the Frank Reidy Award for Outstanding Achievements in Bioelectrics.

John R. Waitekus

John R. Waitekus MD received a B.A. from Boston State College in 1973. He earned his medical degree from Eastern Virginia Medical School in 1998. Dr. Waitekus worked as a carpenter for 20 years before completing medical school later in life. Before coming to Old Dominion University, he worked as a Family Physician with Sentara for ten years.

Dr. Waitekus has worked at Old Dominion University (ODU) for the past eleven plus years and helped us to achieve continuous re-accreditation with the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care as our infection control practitioner. After the retirement of our Medical Director in May 2021, as the sole MD on staff, Dr. Waitekus took on additional duties including the role of laboratory director. During his tenure at ODU as a Board-Certified Family Physician he brought the additional skill of acupuncture as a treatment modality for our students. On a daily basis, Dr. Waitekus is well known to our students as one who spends extra time explaining the etiology and treatment of their issues as well as how to maintain health. He makes sure to address all of a patient's questions which is especially important to our international student population. Dr. Waitekus is known to our team as a caring and compassionate provider who always checks in on the staff and brings them weekly treats.

He worked tirelessly during the COVID-19 pandemic, training our health center staff and the Athletic department staff on how to screen for COVID-19. He personally tested many hundreds of students and helped them navigate their COVID-19 infection including contacting them in the isolation and quarantine residential housing. He assisted in reducing the spread of COVID-19 and along with our team helped to keep the ODU campus safe. He served as the medical director for our administration of the COVID-19 vaccines secured through the Virginia Department of Health. He provided a response plan to mitigate the spread of the monkeypox virus and collaborated with the team to reduce the spread of meningitis and chicken pox on the campus during his tenure.

Dr. Waitekus has served as an educator, mentor, motivator, and expert collaborator in his field for the entire team at Student Health Services. He has also served as a preceptor for Eastern Virginia Medical School medical students and ODU nurse practitioner students. In efforts to build morale and reduce compassion fatigue he worked the late hours during the Summer and was on call during the entire winter holiday. Dr. Waitekus describes his experience at ODU as a home and family from day one, and he is eternally thankful.
Committee members approved the proposed Ph.D. in Electrical and Computer Engineering, the proposed M.S. in Electrical and Computer Engineering, and the recommended closure of the BSED program in Early Childhood Education. Vice Provost Payne asked the committee chair to table the program modification for the Master of Business Administration (MBA). The following resolutions were brought forth as recommendations of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee and were approved by roll-call vote (Allen, Bradley, Corn, Dickseski, Ellmer, Hodge, Holland, Kemper, Middleton, Mitchum, Mugler, Pitts).

APPROVAL OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY DEGREE PROGRAM IN ELECTRICAL AND COMPUTER ENGINEERING DEGREE

RESOLVED, that upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves the proposed Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Electrical and Computer Engineering effective with the fall 2025 semester pending approval by the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia.

Rationale: Old Dominion University seeks approval to initiate a Doctor of Philosophy degree program in Electrical and Computer Engineering to begin in the fall of 2025. The proposed program will be administered by the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in the Batten College of Engineering & Technology.

The proposed program will prepare students for engineering research and teaching careers in industry, government, research organizations, and educational institutions. Graduates with the proposed ECE degree will be able to make original contributions that help society in the grand challenges that we are facing and will face, including in autonomous and connected systems, smart cities, intelligent manufacturing, and smart materials. The program will have two core courses to expose the students to foundational tools and the remaining courses will be selected in coordination between the Graduate Program Director and a research advisor to meet the needs of the ECE degree.

The first main goal of this Ph.D. program is to prepare its graduates so they will be able to establish themselves as leaders in high-level engineering positions in industry and/or a government setting. Ph.D. graduates are employed as electrical and computer engineers supporting industries like automotive, manufacturing, systems integration, shipbuilding, aerospace, defense, telecommunications, etc. They are also employed as researchers by private research and development labs or by federally funded organizations (Jefferson Lab, NASA, or the Naval Research Laboratories). Some of our former doctoral students have also gone into academic careers doing postdoctoral fellowships or are working in universities as faculty members. The second goal of this Ph.D. program is to prepare its graduates so they will be able to continue to create engineering knowledge. The third goal of Ph.D. program is to prepare its graduates and encourage them to establish themselves as successful faculty members if they choose to join academia.

ODU would be the first university in Virginia to offer graduate degrees in electrical and computer engineering to meet current and future needs. There are shortages of qualified Electrical and Computer Engineers for New Market Opportunities and Global Competitiveness Advanced Technology in the USA. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), two occupations long associated with innovation – electrical and electronics engineering – have all but stalled in their growth. The slow rate of growth in most manufacturing sectors is getting much of the blame for the stall in this occupation. This bleak view of the field is in direct contrast with industry claims that the United States has a massive shortage of skilled electrical engineers. American companies maintain that this is not an issue of declining demand, but rather one of declining investment in U.S. workers in favor of lobbying Congress for access to inexpensive foreign labor. Some observers claim that the demand for American electrical engineers would improve if the U.S. insisted that rockets that launch astronauts, satellites, weather, and GPS equipment were made in the U.S. The BLS predicts that most opportunities for electrical and electronics engineers will be with engineering service firms, as companies seek to reduce costs by contracting. Electrical engineers familiar with developing technologies in the areas of solar arrays, semiconductors, and communications will be best positioned to find jobs.

According to a CNBC report, the software developer (one field of computer engineering) shortage will be alarming in 2022. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), by 2030, the number of software job vacancies would rise by almost 22%. The average growth rate of software developers in the USA is only 8% right now, and that clearly emphasizes there is already an overwhelming and severe shortage of skilled workers. The talent shortfall starts with college graduates and advanced professionals in the fields of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). While a shortage of STEM workers will not stop a company’s day-to-day operations, it can hamper the pace of growth for the whole industry and, subsequently, have an impact on the competitiveness of entire countries or regions.

The doctoral program prepares students for academia, research laboratories, and industry careers. In 2023, universities in the state of Virginia posted positions for tenure-track and research faculty, including positions seeking expertise in cyber-physical systems (Hampton University), integrated microsystems design and fabrication (Virginia Tech), and statistical estimation, signal processing, and wireless communications (University of Virginia). With their unique electrical and computer engineering foundation, our doctoral students can succeed in these positions by integrating their expertise in electrical engineering and computer systems. The federal government (e.g., U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Belvoir) and industry (e.g., Amentum, Dahlgren) have positions for applicants with a Ph.D. degree who can design and develop systems at the crossroads of electrical and computer engineering. Graduates of our Ph.D. in Electrical and Computer Engineering will be needed to ensure that the Virginia Clean Economy Act will deliver practical and innovative solutions while spurring economic growth.

The proposed PH.D. in ECE responds to the need for electrical and computer professionals in the Commonwealth of Virginia, the nation, and the world. In recent U.S. Bureau of Statistics, employment of computer and information research scientists is projected to grow 20 percent from 2020 to 2030, much faster than the average for all occupations. About 9,700 openings for computer programmers are projected each year, on average, over the decade. Overall employment of electrical and electronics engineers is projected to grow 7 percent from 2020 to 2030, about as fast as the average for all occupations. “There are more computers on the manufacturing floor than machine tools and other types of equipment,” said Judy Marks, CEO of Siemens USA. More and more factory jobs now demand education, technical know-how or specialized skills. And many of the workers set adrift from low-tech factories lack such qualifications. In addition, although computer and information research scientists typically need a master’s or higher degree in computer related field, such as electrical and computer engineering, employers prefer to hire candidates who have a Ph.D. Focusing on cutting edge education and training will be essential for Virginia's and U.S. high technology workforce and economic development as occupations in the electrical and computer industry are highly in demand and among the fastest growing in the economy. The proposed degree program will contribute to addressing such needs by preparing students to understand electrical and computer engineering principles and develop more innovative and advanced systems. Graduates will become the next generation in the high technology workforce to safeguard U.S. the leadership in technology.

APPROVAL OF MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREE PROGRAM IN ELECTRICAL AND COMPUTER ENGINEERING

RESOLVED, that upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves the proposed Master of Science degree program in Electrical and Computer Engineering effective with the fall 2025 semester pending approval by the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia.

Rationale: Old Dominion University seeks approval to initiate a Master of Science degree program in Electrical and Computer Engineering to begin in the fall of 2025. The proposed program will be administered by the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in the Batten College of Engineering and Technology.

The proposed M.S. ECE degree will prepare students develop leadership roles careers in industry, government, research organizations, and educational institutions. Graduates with the proposed ECE degree will be able to make original contributions that help society in the grand challenges that we are facing and will face, including in autonomous and connected systems, smart cities, intelligent manufacturing, and smart materials. The program will have three options, thesis, project, and course, each of which has 16 credits core courses to expose the students to foundational tools and the remaining courses will be selected in coordination between the Graduate Program Director and a research advisor to meet the needs of the ECE degree.

The goal of this graduate level, M.S. program is to prepare its graduates to establish themselves as successful professionals in mid-level engineering positions in industry or government setting - by conducting themselves in a responsible, professional, and ethical manner. M.S. students will be evaluated throughout the program using formative assessments, such as, tests, cases studies, capstone project (M.S. with project option), comprehensive exam (M.S. with course option), thesis (M.S. with thesis option), and presentations. Student learning outcomes cover many of the technical and management competencies that are required for the area of electrical and computer engineering.
The M.S. program in Electrical and Computer Engineering will provide a continuously improving learning environment to its students while maintaining high ethical, multicultural, and global standards. The master’s program stresses both theoretical and practical aspects of Electrical and Computer Engineering by combining the teaching and research expertise of the ECE faculty with additional research resources in the Hampton Roads area through department labs and university centers/institutes. The first goal of this M.S. program is to prepare its graduates so they will be able to establish themselves as successful professionals in mid-level engineering positions in industry or government - by conducting themselves in a responsible, professional, and ethical manner. Graduates are employed as electrical and computer engineers supporting industries like automotive, manufacturing, systems integration, shipbuilding, aerospace, defense, telecommunications, etc. They are also employed as researchers by private research and development labs or by federally funded organizations (e.g., Jefferson Lab, NASA, or the Naval Research Laboratories). The second goal of M.S. program is to prepare its graduates so they will be able to demonstrate and assume positions of professional leadership in both industry and government. The third goal of this M.S. program is to prepare its graduates and encourage them to successfully pursue a doctoral degree in their specialty area if they so desire.

Graduates of the proposed M.S. in ECE will have the skills and abilities needed for employment and workplace competencies in the field of electrical and computer engineering.

The proposed degree program will prepare students for research and industry careers throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia. The additional training of these students will be sought by employers in southwest, southeast, central, and northern Virginia. For example, HII Newport News Shipbuilding values students with a master’s degree that are proficient in controls and computer networks. Manufacturing and companies focusing on data analytics will also benefit from our graduates.

CLOSURE OF BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION, PRE-KINDERARTEN THROUGH 3RD GRADE

RESOLVED, that upon the recommendation of the Academic and Research Advancement Committee, the Board of Visitors approves the closure of the Bachelor of Science in Education in Early Childhood Education, Pre-Kindergarten through 3rd Grade degree effective with the spring 2025 semester pending approval by the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia.

Rationale: Old Dominion University seeks approval to close the Bachelor of Science in Education in Early Childhood Education, Pre-Kindergarten through 3rd Grade degree effective Spring 2025. The program is housed in the Department of Teaching and Learning in the Darden College of Education and Professional Studies.

In line with our continuous improvement efforts, degree programs have been updated to better reflect the needs of employers hiring ODU graduates. As part of these programmatic changes, we no longer require the Bachelor of Science (BSEd) in Early Childhood Education, Pre-Kindergarten through 3rd Grade degree as students can now earn a Bachelor of Science in Education (BSEd) in Elementary Education, Pre-Kindergarten through 6th Grade. This degree is more appropriate for our students and workforce as it includes early childhood preparation, allows for expanded job opportunities, and typically results in higher paying positions.

After detailed discussions by curricula committees, program faculty, and program directors, the recommendation has been made to close the Bachelor of Science in Education in Early Childhood Education, Pre-Kindergarten through 3rd Grade degree. This closure will have no impact on faculty. A teach out plan will be put in place to allow all currently enrolled and admitted students to either transfer to a comparable degree within the institution, or complete the degree in full prior to the resolution of instruction.

Brian Payne, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs and Dean of Interdisciplinary Studies, discussed the four departmental name changes approved by SCHEV. The Department of Educational Foundations and Department of Leadership will be changed to the Educational Leadership and Workforce Development Department. The Department of Human Movement Sciences will be changed to the Department of Human Movement Studies and Special Education. The School of Kinesiology and Health Science will become the School of Exercise Science and the School of Communication Sciences and disorders will become the School of Speech-Language Pathology.

Ken Fridley, Vice President for Research, introduced David Flanagan, Assistant Vice President for Research Security and Export Control, and Shannon Robinson, Associate Vice President for Research and Executive Director of the ODU Research Foundation, who gave a presentation on the increasing complexity of Federal research compliance regulations.

ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE COMMITTEE

Rudy Middleton, chair of the Administration and Finance Committee, reported that Neal Kessler from the SmithGroup provided an update on the campus maser plan initiative. The presentation highlighted the project scope, planning process, engagement efforts, current timeline, and next steps. Mr. Kessler also highlighted how the ten-year plan will support continued implementation of ODU’s five-year Forward-Focused strategic plan.

Vice President Chad A. Reed presented a budget overview as well as the 2024-25 Tuition and Fees Proposal. Highlights of these proposal were reported out earlier today and have been acted upon by the full Board.

Vice President Reed presented the Financial Performance Report and the Capital Projects Report to the Committee. He noted there are currently 11 projects in various stages of construction and design. These projects have total projected cost of $437M. Of note, the Engineering and Arts Building is currently in the project implementation phase. He also reported on the new Health Sciences Building, the opening of Student Health and Wellness, updates on the new Biology Building, ODU Baseball Stadium, and repairs to Rollins Hall to support space needs for ROTC program physical training.

The Committee received the Educational Foundation Investment Report from Assistant Vice President Mike LaRock and the Public Safety Report from R. Garrett Shelton, Chief of Police.

AUDIT, COMPLIANCE, AND HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE

Robert Corn, chair of the Audit, Compliance, and Human Resources Committee, reported that Chief Audit Executive, announced the creation of the University Compliance Department and introduced the members of both the University Compliance and University Audit Departments.

The Committee approved a motion to modify the Audit, Compliance, and Human Resources Committee Charter and it will be brought to the Governance Committee at its next meeting.

Ms. Skaggs presented the results of the completed audit reports on the Police Department’s fiscal activities for FY2023 and the Office of the President FY2023 expenditures, which both received a strong audit rating with no reportable findings. She then presented the status of open audit issues since November, noting that nine are now complete with 24 remaining open, and shared the open audit projects.

The Committee convened in closed session to discuss the performance of specific departments that involved the discussion of the performance of specific individual as permitted by the Code of Virginia. The Committee then reconvened in opens session.

Ms. September Sanderlin, Vice President for Human Resources, Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, updated the Committee on the proposed overtime rule for FLSA. She discussed implications for the campus and the approach that is being taken to assess and mitigate the impact. She also discussed campus climate follow-up, classified employee turnover rate, salary equity, OIED task force, and points of pride.

Vice President Sanderlin presented the resolution to approve the administrative and professional faculty appointments. The following resolution, which was presented as a recommendation of the Audit, Compliance, and Human Resources Committee, was approved by roll-call vote (Allen, Bradley, Corn, Dickseski, Ellmer, Hodge, Holland, Kemper, Middleton, Mitchum, Mugler, Pitts).

BYLAWS
OF THE OLD DOMINION UNIVERSITY
BOARD OF VISITORS

PREFACE

The Board of Visitors adopts the bylaws that follow for the orderly and efficient conduct of its meetings and the business of Old Dominion University. This preface is to provide a brief overview of the source of the Board’s authority as a public institution of higher education, and a component of the executive branch of the government of Virginia.
The Virginia statutes specific, or organic to the University, Va. Code §§23.1-2000 through 23.1-2004, might be thought of as the University’s charter. These statutes constitute the Board of Visitors as a public corporation named “Old Dominion University,” and set the corporation’s basic purpose and authority. Other statutes apply to all Commonwealth institutions of higher education to impose other duties and confer additional powers. The University is also subject, along with all agencies of the executive branch of the state government, to such statutes as, for example, the Virginia Freedom of Information Act which governs, inter alia, the circumstances under which a public body, such as this Board, may meet in closed session. Ultimately, however, the University’s operations are dependent on the terms of the Appropriations Act adopted bi-annually in the even numbered years by the Virginia legislature, the General Assembly, and amended in the odd numbered years. Finally, it is to be noted that the Commonwealth’s agencies and institutions are not as a rule subject to the general statutes of Virginia, as well as the ordinances enacted by the local governments, unless the General Assembly expressly provides otherwise.

Members of the Board, the University staff, and the public should be aware at all times that the authority conferred on the Board of Visitors by the General Assembly resides solely in the Board. That is, no visitor or other individual, regardless of title or position, shall speak for or exercise the Board’s authority except to the extent that the Board may so provide by delegation contained in these bylaws, or by other action of the Board.

The Commonwealth demands institutional direction by a Board composed of active, informed, and engaged visitors. As a measure of this need, the General Assembly provided that if any member of the Board should fail to perform the duties of a visitor for a year, without sufficient cause, the Board shall certify the same to the Governor; and the office of that member shall then be vacant.

ARTICLE I

Power, Authority, and Duties

§ 1.01. Role and Responsibilities. As the body responsible for the University, the Board of Visitors’ focus shall be on student success, academic freedom, serving the public purposes of higher education, preserving and protecting institutional autonomy to the extent permissible under the Code of Virginia. The Board’s trust includes the following responsibilities:

(a) Presidential Selection and Oversight. The Board’s most important responsibility is selection (Article V of these Bylaws) and oversight (§7.01(f) of these Bylaws) of the University President. The President reports only to the Board and it is the responsibility of the Board to ensure that the President is implementing the Board’s formally adopted policies and efficiently and effectively accomplishing the University’s goals.

(b) University Mission. The Board is responsible for ensuring that the University’s mission reflects and directs the relative commitment to undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs, as well as an appropriate balance among instruction, research, and service. The University’s Mission shall be reviewed every five years in conjunction with the development of the Strategic Plan, or more frequently if a significant activity or event necessitates further consideration.
(c) Strategic Planning. The Board is responsible for ensuring there is an ongoing strategic planning process that results in the Board approving a Strategic Plan at least every five years. The President is responsible for leading the strategic planning process and overseeing its implementation. In conjunction with the President, and in consultation with the faculty, other internal groups, and external constituencies, the Board shall take an active part in developing priorities and goals essential to the accomplishment of the University’s mission, allocation of resources, and measurement of success.

(d) University Budget and Financial Statements. The Board is responsible for ensuring that the University’s mission, priorities, and goals are visible in and expressed through its budget. The budget shall reflect the priorities developed in the strategic planning process. The Board shall work in conjunction with the President and his/her administration to receive budget related information in a meeting prior to approving the University’s annual budget. The Board is responsible for oversight in submitting the annual financial statements to the Auditor of Public Accounts (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.10), and reporting to SCHEV (the “Council”) the required financial information contained in Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.11 by December 1 of each year.

(e) Academic Integrity. The Board is responsible for advancing and protecting the academic quality of the education offered by the University including, but not limited to, considering strategic planning, admission standards, graduation requirements, grading policies, use of technology in the classroom, and faculty structure, development, productivity, priorities, and incentives for outstanding teaching.

(f) Research Integrity. The Board is responsible for promoting and preserving excellence in basic and applied research. In accordance with Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.9 this also includes adopting regulations related to research involving human subjects along with submission of an annual report to the Governor, General Assembly, and University President if conducted.

(g) Student Success. The Board has a vested interest in student success and considers an array of factors related to student access. The Board is responsible for assuring the high quality of student life necessary to ensure that higher education achievement can take place in an environment conducive to a high level of learning, including the release of student records (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.5) and posting a list of required textbooks (Va. Code §23.1-1308 B).

(h) Affiliated Foundations. The Board is responsible for assuring that priorities for fund raising, research, athletics, real estate acquisition and disposal, and other affiliated foundation activities are consistent with the University’s mission, priorities, and goals. While the Board recognizes the independent governance of these private activities, the Board is responsible for private resources contributed to the University for public purpose. Guidelines for the exercise of this responsibility are contained in the Board Policies and Procedures Manual and affiliation agreements.

(i) Audit Planning and Review. The Board is responsible for the selection of accountability measures, review of results, and determination of how effectively its policies have been implemented through the audit process, i.e., whether the University’s allocation of resources is consistent with the Board’s priorities and with the University’s financial position.
(j) Fiscal Efficiency and Integrity. In its review and approval of the University’s annual operating budget and the setting of tuition and fees, the Board is ultimately responsible for assuring fiscal efficiency and integrity; including preserving and protecting University assets.

(k) University Advancement. The Board is responsible for promoting the academic purpose, strategic initiatives, service, and solvency of the University among its many constituents by communicating the institutions accomplishments, sharing its vision for the future, relating the community to the campus and the campus to the community, maintaining constituent trust, and engaging the larger local, national and international community in partnerships to achieve University goals and objectives.

(l) Admissions. The Board is responsible for establishing regulations or institution policies for the acceptance and assistance of students (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.2) and agreements with each associate-degree-granting public institution of higher education (Va. Code §§23.1-907 and 23.1-306).

(m) Financial Aid. The Board is responsible for assisting the Council in enforcing provisions related to eligibility for financial aid (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.3).

(n) Additional Responsibilities. The Code of Virginia also requires the Board to submit to the General Assembly and the Governor an annual executive summary of its activities (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.12), provide to the Council annual data related to expenditures (Va. Code §23.1-209), and make available to any interested party upon request the most recent report of the Uniform Crime Reporting Section of the Department of State Police pertaining to institutions of higher education (Va. Code §23.1-1303 B.13).

ARTICLE II

§ 2.01 Composition – The Board of Visitors is composed of 17 members appointed by the Governor, of whom at least 14 shall be residents of the Commonwealth and at least three shall be alumni of the University. The members are appointed to a four-year term and are eligible for appointment to a second four-year term. (Va. Code §23.1-2001 A). A Board member may be appointed by the Governor after having served two four-year terms if at least four years has passed since the end of the previous consecutive four-year term (Va. Code §23.1-1300 B).

§ 2.02. Resignation. Any member of the Board of Visitors may resign at any time by providing notice to the Governor. Notice also shall be provided to the Rector so that the Board can take measures to accommodate said resignation. Such resignation shall take effect at the time specified in such notice and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of said resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

§ 2.03. Removal. Pursuant to Va. Code §23.1-1300 E, if any member of the Board of Visitors fails to attend (i) the meetings of the board for one year without sufficient cause, as

--------------

At yesterday’s meeting, the Committee considered additional revisions to the Bylaws that are necessary to reflect the merger with EVMS. The changes reflect language in the Code of Virginia as well as the agreements between ODU and EVMS related to operations of the Health Sciences Center. The Committee approved the revisions as presented and, in accordance with the Bylaws, will send a notice of the proposed revisions for the full Board to consider at the meeting in June.

The Committee reviews a new policy that is required to comply with Governor Youngkin’s Executive Order 30, “Implementation of Standards for the Safe Use of Artificial Intelligence Across the Commonwealth,” that was issued in January. It requires the board of Visitors to “establish a culture of integrity” and “codify” an AI acceptable use policy. At President Hemphill’s direction, Digital Learning drafted Policy 1220, Standards for the Safe Use of Artificial Intelligence, which has been reviewed by University Counsel and recommended to the Committee for consideration. Policy 1220 was approved by the Governance Committee as a recommendation to the Board for approval. The Board approved the Policy 1220 by roll-call vote (Bradley, Corn, Dickseski, Ellmer, Hodge, Holland, Kemper, Middleton, Mitchum, Mugler, Pitts).

PRESIDENT’S REPORT

In his report to the Board, President Hemphill provided updates on the following events and activities:

Center of Excellence Designation
Our University has boldly stepped forward to play a critical role in the maritime industry from an academic, research, and workforce perspective. This transformational work is made possible due to the engagement and partnership of many local and regional entities.

As such, the Hampton Roads Maritime Industries Education Alliance (HRMIEA), which includes both the Maritime Institute and ODU, was designated as a 2024 Center of Excellence (CoE) for Domestic Maritime Workforce Training and Education by the U.S. Department of Transportation’s Maritime Administration. This federal recognition program was developed to support maritime workforce training and education at designated CoEs, including admission of additional students; recruitment and training of faculty; expansion of facilities; creation of new maritime pathways; and awarding credits to students for prior experience, including military service.

This new designation represents one of 32 CoEs selected from across the national for a five-year period based on qualifications to assist the maritime industry with training a skilled workforce. At this time, I would like to pause and acknowledge the commitment and leadership of the late John O. “Dubby” Wynne, who truly championed a focus on the maritime industry throughout our region. The President acknowledged Drs. Ken Fridley, Elspeth McMahon, and Brian Payne for their exemplary efforts in this critical area.

Student Recreation and Well-Being Center Opening
Following an extensive project to both expand and remodel an existing facility, a ribbon-cutting ceremony and open house was held at the Student Recreation and Well-Being Center. This center now houses Counseling Services; Student Health Services; and the Health Promotion Office, where were previously located in Webb Center before joining forces with Recreation and Wellness. The center is yet another sign of our commitment to putting students first, and it also represents a one-stop shop on many levels. We are truly committed to caring for each student’s mind, body, and soul. The idea of providing a holistic, well-rounded area that really focuses on health and well-being is something that we are proud of. The President acknowledged individuals in the Division of Student Engagement and Enrollment Services and the Division of Administration and Finance, who truly made this project a reality for our students and a success for our campus.

Mellon Foundation Grant

Earlier this week, it was publicly announced that our University is the recipient of a $5 million grant from the Mellon Foundation to support the creation of the Monarch Humanities Internship Academy, which is part of the Monarch Internship and Co-Op Office. This initiative will provide necessary resources for humanities majors to gain on-the-job training with a paid internship in areas and at organizations where employers may not have funding in place to support such work-based learning opportunities. Through this grant award, 750 students in select majors will engage in opportunities with companies and organization with social missions and also create electronic portfolios to capture their experience.

As part of the Mellon Foundation’s recent grant cycle, our University was one of five public colleges and universities selected for a total of $25 million in funding to establish paid internships for humanities students. The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation is the nation’s largest supporter of the arts and humanities. President Hemphill thanked the Mellon Foundation for their generosity and partnership and acknowledged Dr. Payne, as well as Drs. Barbara Blake and Laura Delbrugge.

Health Sciences Building Completion

Following several years of planning and construction, the Health Sciences Building has entered the final stages of completion with move-scheduled over the summer. The building will house the School of Dental Hygiene; the School of Medical Diagnostics and Translational Sciences; and the School of Rehabilitation Sciences, including athletic training, occupational therapy, and physical therapy. The spaces in the building include research and teaching laboratories, simulation laboratories, classrooms, faculty and staff offices, student and faculty interaction and collaboration spaces, and a physical and occupational therapy clinic.

As we prepare for a campus-wide celebration in early fall, I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge those in the Division of Academic Affairs, specifically the College of Health Sciences, and the Division of Administration and Finance for the effort that has been put into creating such a state-of-the-art facility for our campus and the broader community. President Hemphill acknowledged Dr. Bonnie Van Lunen, Chad Reed, and Mike Holliday.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE REPORT

Before giving his report, the Rector presented Keshav “K” Vermani with a Certificate of Appreciation and gift from the Board in recognition of his service as the student representative to the Board this past year.

Mr. Vermani shared fall 2023 activities, including attending the Monarch orientation, assisting with student move-in at Whitehurst and Powhatan Halls, and attending the ODU/Virginia Tech football game at Lane Stadium with a group of ODU students. He also highlighted the Monarchs Give Back program, which raised over 30,000 canned food items for City of Norfolk and Norfolk Public Schools. He thanked the Board for its support of the ODU Monarch Pantry, which is now fully funded and is an affiliate of the Foodbank of Southeastern Virginia. The Board of Visitors
Student Representative Network brought student representatives from across the Commonwealth together to discuss shared challenges and possible solutions.

One of his most enjoyable activities this spring was participating in ODU Day in Richmond. He thanked President Hemphill for hosting this event. He also co-chaired the ODU Model United Nations Summit, an amazing opportunity where students get to test their diplomatic skills against each other.

He has tried to focus his efforts on informing the Board of the importance of ensuring that ODU remains an affordable institution. When speaking with students and asking why they chose ODU, what he hears the most is because of the quality of the education provided and the affordability of the institution. He is pleased that Raquan was chosen as his successor.

He concluded his remarks by sharing what he has learned over the past year while serving as the Board’s student representative: ODU is an amazing University with immense academic and social offerings; he received a crash course in student leadership; he became better informed about the roles of education and government; and he has new-found respect and appreciation for all ODU faculty and staff who help make an ODU education possible.

FINANCIAL UPDATE

Chad Reed, Vice President for Administration & Finance and Chief Financial Officer, provided a financial performance report as of February 29. He noted that the University is well on-track with its revenues and expenditures. To date, 85.3% of revenue has been collected and expenditures are just under 77%.

The Rector thanked Vice President Reed for being a good steward of the University’s finances, particularly compared with significant challenges that are facing other institutions such as West Virginia University and VCU. He commented that ODU is fortunate to have him its chief financial officer.

Before adjourning, President Hemphill reminded Board members about the Spring Commencement Ceremonies being held on May 3-4, 2024. 2,484 participants are expected during two ceremonies in which 1,853 undergraduate students and 631 graduate students will receive their degrees.

With no old/unfinished or new business to come before the Board, the meeting was adjourned at 12:42 PM.
